School Board To Study Cooperative Programs

The School board of Chatsworth Unit 1 met on Tuesday evening at the grade school. A contract was approved and signed with Midwest Educational Consultant Services for the six district feasibility study.

The board discussed a summary questionnaire which had been given to the high school students regarding the Chatsworth-Piper City cooperative program. A joint board meeting with Piper City was tentatively set for January 8 at Piper City with the purpose to discuss the cooperative programs.

Charles Cullin reported to the board on the six district meeting held recently at Chatsworth. The next meeting for this group will be January 15 at Forrest.

Ronald Shafer reported on the school board association meeting he attended in Chicago Nov. 24-25.

A report was given in regard to the board of education's obligation in reference to the length of time students attend Jr. College and the support the local school system gives.

The "life safety code" survey summary was presented by Superintendent Robert Stuckey. Of the 81 recommendations concerning the high school building 54 have been completed at this time. 15 are to be completed by June 1969. 5 will be finished during the summer of 69. This will leave 7 to be completed by the final July 1, 1970 deadline.

Of the 11 grade school calendars for the 69-70 school year were discussed. The first one would have school open Aug. 25 and close May 29. The second plan would have school open Sept. 2 and end June 6.

The board agreed to change the date of the January meeting from the 14th to January 21.

The Chatsworth Volunteer Fire Department met at the fire station on last Thursday evening. It was decided that in the near future a number of the men would canvas the business houses to better acquaint themselves and the department with the entrances or exits of the buildings.

The Firemen's Supper sponsored by Chief Lee Mapleshorpe will be Dec. 19 at the Coral Cup beginning at 6:45 p.m. Final plans were made for Santa's arrive on Saturday, Dec. 21 at 2 p.m. He will arrive at the fire station in his sleigh.

The members have been selling advance tickets but tickets will be available at the door of any of the homes on the tour. There is no set route to be taken on this tour. It may begin at any of the five homes.

Mrs. Jim Kessinger, the club president, stated that men were just as welcome as the women at the homes to view the Christmas decorations. This is one of the club's main money making projects in their efforts to meet their budget and it is hoped there will be a good turnout.

The five homes to be shown are: the Jim Kessinger home at 412 E. Pine St., the Burnell Watson Home at 506 E. Hickory St., the Dale Kimmel home at 402 E. Ash Street, the Frank Livingston home at 306 E. Ash St. and the Wm. Rehbozh home at 211 W. Locust St.

Bluebirds Lose To Reddick Friday Nite

Chatsworth's Bluebirds opened their VV conference schedule with a 6-2-58 heartbreaking loss to the strong Reddick Bulldogs at Reddick.

Twice trailing by 12 points in the first half, the Big Blue rallied to cut Reddick's halftime advantage to 36-28. In the second half, however, continued cold shooting and the Bulldogs' superior depth kept the Bluebirds at a distance.

By the end of the third quarter, Reddick led 53-39, and seemed headed for an easy win. But the hustling Blue fought back to within four points, outscoring the Bulldogs 19-9 in the final stanza.

Unfortunately, the scoring binge came too late to overcome the big lead Reddick had built in the earlier stages of the contest. Coach Denny Lehms attributed the major difference in the fray to the cold shooting spell, with the hosts shooting a superior 53% to CHS's frosty 30%. The Big Blue did haul down 31 caroms to the Bulldogs' 30, however.

Sophomore center Jerry Kurtenbach counted 15 times at the gratis stripe, to go with his eight baskets, giving him game scoring honors with 31 points. Senior guards Mike Somers and Dick Cording contributed 10 points each for Chatsworth.

Chatsworth came from behind in the junior varsity game to tie Reddick as regular time closed, 38-38. The Bluebirds failed on the last shot in the overtime, giving Reddick the win.

Chair company and Pontiac Stone company presented $100 checks to the association. This was a boost to the campaign which got off to a very poor start, according to Murray Wallace, president of the TB association.

It is the sincere wish of the association board members that the public acquaint themselves, if they do not already know, with the services that the association offers and then get behind this campaign and support it wholeheartedly.

There have been some questions raised about how much of the Christmas Seal money goes to the clinic. The association has always been interested in the clinic and its work - even to the extent of borrowing $1,000 to help with needed clinic equipment at one time. The film and postage expense for the reporting of results to the person x-rayed are paid for out of the Christmas Seal funds and from time to time, when budget has permitted, help is given with clinic equipment. The remainder of the money is spent on case finding programs, health education and research. For these programs, a registered nurse and part time secretary are hired by the association out of the Christmas Seal funds.

If anyone has any further questions about the funds and what they are used for, please contact the Livingston County TB association office and the executive director will be most happy to send an annual report book, Wallace stated.

Livingston county residents purchased a total of $66,022 in series E and H United States savings bonds and Freedom Shares in the month of October, according to H. E. Vogelinger, Jr. of Pontiac, general county chairman of the savings bonds committee.

Numbers Game Increasing SS, Zip For Driver ID

Both the social security number and the zip code will be required by law to be shown on all drivers license applications beginning January 1, Secretary of State Paul Powell has reminded Illinois drivers.

Failure to include this information will make it necessary to return the application, resulting in inconvenience and delay for the applicant and increased postage expense for the state, Powell pointed out.

The requirement affects teenagers applying for instruction permits as well as adults applying for their first Illinois licenses or renewal of their current license, Secretary Powell said.

Persons not currently having a social security number may obtain one from their nearest Social Security office, he said.

"The social security number is rapidly being used across the nation for purposes not directly connected with social security because it is probably the most accurate means of identification available," Powell said.

"With the steadily increasing use of computers in such fields as motor vehicle titles, registration and driver licensing, the social security number provides much greater accuracy in cross reference filing of millions of records, and is of substantial help in preventing such things as revocation or suspension of the wrong person's license and obtaining licenses fraudulently," Secretary Powell said.

The law was amended by the last session of the General Assembly to require the social security number in order to enable Illinois to comply with Federal government requirements dealing with drivers' records, Powell said.

licenses and license plates enabled his office this year to much faster. prepare for mailing and mail more than 4,000,000 As an example, Powell cited the fact that using pre-printed passenger car automated equipment and license applications in 19 pre-sorting by zip code days.

WHAT'S INVOLVED IN BARGAINING

Farmers must control their product and stick together - if they are to bargain effectively. Bryce Kirtley told the audience at the Livingston Farm Management banquet in Pontiac, December 5.

Those products produced to a limited area, which have an expanding market and few substitutes, are easier to control than products grown over wide areas, that have a declining market, and that have one or more acceptable substitutes, he said.

The twin goals of bargaining are (1) to obtain better prices and (2) better terms of trade. Power to realize these goals comes from two sources - political activity and from organizing, Kirtley said.

Under political activity he listed permissive laws, regulatory service and laws, price support program, special study commission and lobbying.

Power from organizing may provide three advantages, uniform quality products, a stable supply for the market, and possibly lower procurement and sales costs.

However, the members must stick together and be willing to let the organization buy and sell for them, he added. And, they must realize that if the bargaining organization is to be successful, they must be ready to stand some losses if it becomes necessary to withhold produce from the market to obtain the desired contract, he explained.

In addition to the economic limits of bargaining power as represented by the losses mentioned above plus losses of market to substitutes if prices become too high, there are also political and social limits to bargaining power, Kirtley said.

By law, you are prevented from unduly enhancing prices, from destroying competition, and using predatory practices.

You are limited socially in that if you become too successful, take unfair advantage, or violate the public ideas of justice and fair play, you will lose your public support.

The two important ingredients to make any bargaining program work are: (1) strategy - or a plan to fit the situation, and (2) skill to carry out the necessary negotiations.

MANY FARM EXPENSES LEGAL DEDUCTIBLE TAX ITEMS

Most farmers recognize fertilizer, seed, gas, oil, chemicals, feed, wages and depreciation as deductible items on the farm schedule of their income tax forms.

But some farmers often overlook other business expenses when filing tax returns, reports F. M. Sims, University of Illinois extension farm management specialist.

Wise tax management includes claiming all allowable deductions. On taxes figured from a table, a forgotten $10 deduction can mean paying additional tax dollars later, he explains. If a farmer is in the 30 percent tax range, every dollar he deducts saves him 30 cents plus the surtax assessment.

Here are a few deductible business expenses often overlooked:

- Farm and breed organization dues.
- Farm magazine subscriptions.
- Extension telephones in farm buildings and long-distance business telephone calls.
- Fees for record-keeping services, management help, tax consultants, attorneys and accountants.
- Expenses for exhibiting at fairs.
- Fringe benefits given to hired help.
- Supplies and tools, such as wrenches, grease gun and chains.
- Repair or cleanup after a casualty such as a tornado.
- Penalty charges for paying off a mortgage before its due date.
- Office or office space in the home.
- Farm business advertising.
- Wages paid to children for reasonable services rendered.
- Safe-deposit box used in business.
- Farm record books, business postage and stationery.
- This list is only a start. Sims says a competent tax practitioner can help you decide and give you suggestions on which farm business and personal expense items are deductible on your farm income tax forms.

THESE DRIVING TIPS CAN CUT ACCIDENT RATE ON SNOW, ICE

Dodging careless drivers and keeping you and your car cool in summer is no easy job, but winter driving is just as tough.

Snow and ice make a tough job worse and increase the chance for an accident, reminds O. L. Hogsett, University of Illinois extension safety specialist. He lists these 10 driving safety tips for safe winter driving:

1. Give your car a "longer than normal" warm-up period after starting. Use the extra time to check your gas, oil pressure and water temperature gauges.
2. Equip your car with snow tires. In many states it's now legal to use metal-studded snow tires.
3. Keep the windshield washer reservoir filled with a non-freezeable solution. Place a bottle of glycerine and water, mixed half and half, in the glove compartment. Apply the solution to windows and windshields to free them of ice and sleet.
4. Keep a bag of sand and a shovel in the trunk. If you get stuck, shovel a four-foot path both in front and in back of the car. Sand the path. Gently apply power. You can rock cars equipped with automatic transmissions by moving the selector lever back and forth between low gear and reverse.
5. Test brakes often. Even if brakes are in good condition, moisture may condense on linings and drums. If a brake does "grab," depress brake pedal slightly while driving at a slow speed to dry out the lining and drum.
6. Don't jam on the brakes if your car should skid. Instead, leave the car in gear and turn the steering wheel in the direction of the skid. Then pump your brakes gently, but rapidly, until the car is under control.

Livingston Home Advisor USING ELECTRIC KNIFE

Carving your holiday bird with an electric carving knife is this year? Don't be discouraged if your first attempt isn't as successful as you would like. You'll need practice to learn to manipulate an electric carving knife.

The electric knife will no doubt feel cumbersome and the pressure you apply in cutting is much different from that of normal cutting, since the slicing action is taken over by the rapid motion of the electric mechanism of the knife.

Safety with the electric knife is different, too. With yesterday's carving set it was just a matter of watching to see that you didn't run your finger along the newly sharpened blade. But with a flick of the switch, today's electric knife is instantly cutting anything in its path.

So before the electric knife is connected to the electrical outlet, be sure you're ready for action. This means having the blades inserted and locked in place. It means having the turkey right in front of you ready to carve. It means using a cutting board to prevent damage to the counter top or serving tray - or to the knife blades.

Connecting the electric knife to the electrical outlet and letting it lie unattended on the table is a safety hazard for curious youngsters. Battery operated carving knives are just as tempting for youngsters to try. So keep these tools out of reach until the carver is ready to work.

You'll find the electric knife an excellent slicer for that holiday ham. So get it out, study up on its use, and safety. It can be one of the best helpers a homemaker has in her kitchen.

52 Attend Witness Assembly

Fifty two members of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses attended the final session of a three-day assembly in Crawfordsville, Indiana, Sunday.

The principal address God's Way Is Love was delivered Sunday afternoon by Arden B. Stutler, visiting minister from Brooklyn, N. Y., to 1050 persons in attendance.

Frederick Tjarks, local overseer, said that Jehovah's Witnesses have doubled in numbers in the past 10 years. "Assemblies such as the one we attended last weekend have contributed to our phenomenal growth. However, we do not attend an assembly with the idea of supporting an emotional rally to effect mass conversion of new members," Tjarks said. "No one can develop true Christian faith by responding to such an excited appeal."

Tjarks said that much assembly time was devoted to demonstrating the new six-month home Bible study arrangement.

A baptismal ceremony was conducted Saturday afternoon in which twenty-eight were baptized. Those from the Pontiac congregation included: Mrs. Sandra Schuldt, Chatsworth; Mrs. Irene Wagenseller of rural Fairbury; and Kenneth Romig, Pontiac.

Program emphasis shifts to intensified production in the afternoon, announces Gary Ricketts, University of Illinois extension sheep specialist.

Topics for discussion include:

- Potential of total confinement of ewes and lambs.
- Parasite, disease and sanitation problems with intensified production.
- Potential of synchronization of estrus cycles and accelerated lambing.
- Guest speaker for the event is Joe Campbell, a Lebanon, Va., sheep man who has already applied a number

Social Security Tax Rises

The price tag for social security coverage is going up slightly next year. Here's an explanation of the tax increase.

Starting with the first pay check a worker receives in January 1969, the social security deduction will be increased. The rate for a worker and his employer goes up by 2/5 of one percent (2c on each $5 of earnings) and applies on the first $7,800 of annual wages.

Suppose you earned $100 a week in 1968, or about $5,200 for the year. You then paid $4.40 a week as your social security contribution and your employer matched this amount when reporting the tax. Next year you will pay $4.80 each week, or 40 cents more.

From Our Files

10 YEARS Ago

November 27, 1958

P. H. McGreal, 88, well-known stock buyer and retired farmer, died at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday at Fairbury hospital after an illness of four weeks.

Chatsworth was the scene of a Sports Car Rally last Sunday afternoon. The affair, the first of its kind in the area, was planned and supervised by Bob Bohl and Bill Ribordy. Participating in driving the prescribed course, which was approximately 80 miles in length at a designated speed were Kent Arrowsmith of Gilman, Jack Stadler, Keith Bohl and Jim Mauritzen.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gillette are the parents of a baby daughter, Emily Jean, born Monday at the Fairbury hospital. Mrs. Bertha Gillette and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Netherton are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hornickel are the parents of an 8 lb. 10 oz. girl, Lori Diane, born Monday, Nov. 24. The Fairbury hospital arrival, who has two sisters, is a granddaughter of the Gust Hornickels of Chatsworth and the Millard Fergusons of Lake Bloomington.

The Boy Scouts are scheduling an overnight campout for the Thanksgiving weekend. Plans are to take the boys to the old Kickapoo Indian campsite south of town on the farm of Mrs. Elizabeth Kurtenbach to camp on Friday night. They will sleep out, do their own cooking and scout around to see if they can find any Indian arrowheads or other relics.

Some of the men who will accompany the boys are Jacob Scher, Francis Kurtenbach, Jack Cool, L. A. Shoemaker, Don Gerdes and Floyd Cole. DECEMBER 4, 1958

Stanley and Gary Anderson, Norman Kerber and Stephen Hitch showed their calves at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago last week.

An orchid, silver and white color scheme was used at the open house in observance of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ray V. McGreal. The open house, Sunday afternoon in the McGreal's country home, was attended by more than 250 relatives and friends.

More than 150 guests called during open house at the Strawn Methodist church, Sunday afternoon, on the occasion of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hornickel.

Esther Dale will be installed as Worthy Matron at Eastern Star installation, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Ethel Lois Watson, 72, died in Fairbury hospital, Friday, Nov. 28, at 3:55 p.m. after an illness of three weeks.

20 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bennett and daughters, Misses Joyce and Janice of Chatsworth, left the Chicago airport Monday evening at 5 o'clock for a vacation trip to California via American Airlines.

The three Chatsworth hunters, Albert Koehler, Phil Kohler, and Dr. D. E. Killip returned home Saturday night from a 10 day motor hunting Present were their four children, Mrs. Clarence Shols, Miss Anna Miller, George Miller and Carl Miller and their families, including five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Mansfield Gains Win

Saturday night found the Big Blue journeying 60 miles to challenge the undefeated Mansfield Cardinals, who had beaten powerful Octavia by three points one night earlier.

Despite 20 turnovers, which eventually cost the Bluebirds the game, Coach Denny Lehnus said Chatsworth gave a good account of themselves in the contest before bowing out 62-56.

Chatsworth led most of the first half and hustled to a 29-28 advantage at the intermission. But a hustling Cardinal team caused the Blue to cough up the ball on a number of costly turnovers in the second half, and Chatsworth could not keep its lead, winding up on the short end of the score as the final buzzer sounded.

Coach Lehnus did see some bright spots, however, particularly in the improved shooting and balanced scoring of Chatsworth.

CHS hit the hoops for 46% and received good scoring balance from junior forward Mike Hubly, Mike Somers and Jerry Kurtenbach with 16, 15 and 14 points, respectively.

In the JV game, 30 turnovers on offense were committed to aid Mansfield's victory of 43-31.

This Friday night Chatsworth entertains the always tough Piper City Bluebreaks in the gymnasium. Proceeding the conference tilt will be the JV game beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Saturday night will find the Big Blue on the road again, traveling to Cullom to take on the hustling Tri-Point Chargers. Game time for the JV's is 6:15 and varsity at 8 p.m. Tri-Point currently is 4-2 for the season.

On Tuesday night powerful Saunemin will venture to CHS. The strong Eagles are considered, along with Reddick, Melvin-Sibley and Onaga, a top VV conference crown contender. Game times again are 6:30 and 8 p.m.

Do-it-yourself sprays and coatings to "Flame-proof" a natural tree are not always reliably effective.

When setting up the Christmas tree, it might be well to remember to place it away from the fireplace, radiator, stove or other source of heat. Support it firmly and locate it so that upright or fallen, it won't block any stairway or doorway which could be vital escape routes in case of fire.

Lighting equipment should be used only if it carries the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label, this indicates it meets safety standards. Maplethorpe suggests that tree lights, extension cords, plugs, etc. be checked carefully for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets, and always keep a fire extinguisher handy if possible.

On behalf of the Chatsworth Fire dept. he would hope that everyone has a happy and safe Christmas.

Survey Shows Corn Yield Averages 83.6 Bushels; Beans 32.5, In County

By Paul T. Wilson
Farm Advisor

Corn yielded 83.6 bushel per acre and soybean 32.5 bushel per acre in Livingston County this year, according to summary of questionnaire returned by two to four farm operators in each township.

Corn yields varied from zero (a few fields not harvested) to 140 bushels per acre.

Highest yields were reported in Long Point, Nebraska, Waldo and Reading townships. Avoca, Belle Prairie, Eppards Point and Union also reported yields better than average.

Newtown and Odell reported average yields below 60 bushel per acre, and Chatsworth, Esmer, Owego, Saunemin, and Sunbury reported average yields below 70 bushel per acre.

Long Point and Nebraska had the best soybean yield with 41 and 43 bushel per acre. Bell Prairie, Broughton, Reading, Rooks Creek and Eppards Point very other areas with better than average soybean yields.

The farm operators listed nine major reasons for low yields this year.

First, the cold, wet weather in May. This really developed into two conditions that affected the final yield of corn.

a. Growth was retarded, which the plant appeared to overcome, but apparently didn't. This may have been due to shallow root development - that hurts plants during the hot, dry July and August.

b. Grass and weeds got ahead of corn - this resulted in very poor yields in many fields.

Second, dry weather in July and August. Some areas received only two inches of rain during this period and this occurred in several brief showers.

Third - The Corn Leaf Aphid was a factor in at least 10 of the 30 townships, according to the questionnaire. Yields were cut from 5 to over 30 bushels per acre on many farms.

Fourth - The big rain on June 25 hurt yields in areas where it occurred by:

a. Flooding low spots and
b. Loss of nitrogen thru denitrification both from the rains in May and flood in June.

Another reason given by some, was the carry-over from the 1967 of poor harvesting conditions. Fields took a beating from big machinery, which the operator was unable to overcome since these fields were spring plowed. And the final reason, for unfilled ears, was the cloudy weather during the pollination period, which, according to S. F. Aldrich, Agronomy Specialist at U. of I. was responsible for many of the poorly filled ears.

Wet, cold weather causing loss of nitrogen and grassy fields, followed by dry,

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU HAD A POWER FAILURE?

In most cases even your furnace would not run. You could not pump water. Everyone needs a stand-by generator.

We have a special during December of $895 on a reconditioned generator, powered by a Jeep motor. This is an Army surplus and originally sold for $3000. This is an ideal type generator for farm use.

cloudy weather and aphids. There were the main reasons given for poor yields.

The terrific number of Corn Borers and high incidence of stalk rot were two other reasons for poor harvested yields.

There is no doubt in mind, that field losses ranged from 3-10 bushels per acre in some fields due to Corn Borers and Stalk Rot. The fact that we had a very good harvest season enabled farmers to get the corn out without more serious losses.

The survey didn't disclose any difference in maturity dates - time of planting - or kinds of hybrids used.

Twenty three reported that corn planted before May 5 was better, twenty two reported that corn planted May 5 to May 25 was better, and 17 reported no differences in yields due to date of planting, provided it wasn't planted after May 25.

Medium early and full season corn were tied for best yields (24 each). Only 6 out of 54 reported that early maturing corn was better or that there was no difference in yields traceable to any of the maturity dates for the hybrid.

Seventeen reported that single cross hybrids produced better, eleven that regular hybrids were better, and 23 reported no difference - again, no pattern.

About 65 percent of those answering thought there was a definite relationship between thickness of corn stand and ear size, and barren stalks; but they were evenly divided in

Society Plan Prayer Vigil

December 31. The packing and mailing of Christmas boxes to church men and women serving in the peace corps as well as the armed forces was completed earlier in the week. Other gifts were the magazine sent regularly to students and those working away from home. The Society was given the names of two women at the County Nursing Home to whom they will send Christmas gifts.
The Bible study and the Prayer Circle are now combined and will meet Wednesday afternoons at the church, under the direction of Mrs. Frick and Mrs. Charles Bitner.
The afternoon program, Christ as seen in the Faces of Men, was conducted by Mrs. Irvin Teter, Mrs. Carl Sharp and Mrs. Esther Schade, with Mrs. Clarence Bennett as accompanist. By the use of song, verse, scripture, historical reference and present-day context, the worshippers were lead to an examination of their reflections of the qualities and spirit of the Living Christ as they came to the worship center to give their Christmas offerings for missions.
The Society will assume the responsibility for planning a Prayer Vigil to be held at the church throughout the day, Sunday, Jan. 19, closing with a special service in the evening.
